Updates on Google's Email Guidelines

Google has introduced new email guidelines. To comply with the guidelines, take note of the following:

- Emails sent from a Gmail sender address will now be routed through Zoho Commerce's internal email address.
- If your organization sends more than 5000 emails per day to Google's hosted domains, it's important to set up a special email security measure, DMARC, with the policy set to at least "None". Contact Support for further assistance.
